Clean Cities and Communities

Vision: To create an affordable, reliable, and secure transportation energy future.

Mission: To enhance the nation's energy security, support economic prosperity, and improve air quality by fostering locally driven transportation energy choices that leverage domestic energy resources and innovative mobility technologies through collaborative partnerships with public and private stakeholders.

What We Do

Clean Cities and Communities is a U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) partnership to foster transportation energy choices nationwide.

More than 75 DOE-designated Clean Cities and Communities coalitions work in urban, suburban, and rural areas to deliver objective technical expertise based on a unique understanding of local markets.
